

MSP[®] (Managing Successful Programmes)

Without careful overview and management, projects (or programmes of projects) can fail to deliver benefits, fade out or continue to divert resources without clear focus or outputs. All organisations experience change, these changes come in many different forms, changing supplier relationships, new business processes and organisation mergers. Managing Successful Programmes (MSP) is a 5 day course accredited by The Association for Project Management Group (APMG) that enables delegates to understand MSP methodology at foundation level and to apply it at practitioner level.

MSP[®] is a known industry standard for Programme Management

This course operates as either a stand-alone 3 day 'Foundation' course (introducing the basic theory and requirements of the MSP approach, or can be taken as a full 5 day course - extending the Foundation course to cover additional practice elements with a final 'Practitioner' exam.
