This work-based course is designed for people working with local organisations; it focuses on achieving sustainable communities, effective governance and the management of local projects and services. This course provides the skills, confidence and knowledge needed for working with local communities. It will strengthen career opportunities and provide advanced training and a professional qualification by reflecting on work-based projects through assignments.

We are staging a special lunchtime event for employers and potential students at which we will introduce the content and delivery of the course, and invite questions and comments.
