

UNIVERSITY OF GLOUCESTERSHIRE

at Cheltenham and Gloucester

IRIS Research Seminar Series Semester 2

Last Turtle Standing: the use of still and moving images in conservation, education and communication

Dr John Blewitt

11 March 2010, 12.00 - 13.30

University of Gloucestershire, FC CE202
Francis Close Hall, Cheltenham GL50 4AZ

John Blewitt is director of the Lifelong Learning Centre at Aston University. John has wide experience of working with community and third sector bodies both regionally and nationally. Prior to joining Aston in 2009 he developed and was the Director of the MSc Sustainable Development at University of Exeter. His publications include: The Sustainability Curriculum (Earthscan, 2004), The Ecology of Learning (Earthscan, 2006) and Understanding Sustainable Development (Earthscan, 2008) and Community, Empowerment and Sustainable Development (Green Books, 2008). His next book, Putting Animals in the Frame will be published by Green Books in 2010. He is a member of the Commission for Education and Communication of the IUCN, the UK Sustainable Development Panel and was a member of the UN Advisory Group on Sustainability

THE INTERNATIONAL RESEARCH INSTITUTE IN SUSTAINABILITY
(IRIS) -

Focuses on people's responses to sustainability and on participatory research methodologies which support change for sustainability.

NEXT IRIS SEMINAR -

Look out for our next IRIS Seminar scheduled during Semester 2: CEI/IRIS Seminar by Dr Elisabeth Bittner, European Commission, Lifelong Learning: Creativity and Innovation.

IRIS WEBPAGES -

www.glos.ac.uk/iris

Refreshments will be provided.

Please RSVP by 1 February 2010 to Ms Seek Pang, Email spang@glos.ac.uk

Places for this seminar are very limited and early booking is essential.

