IRIS Research Seminar Series Semester 2

From Global To Worldly Leadership - uncovering ancient and indigenous leadership wisdoms for a more sustainable world

Professor Sharon Turnbull

26 February 2010, 12.00 - 13.30

University of Gloucestershire, PK TC104
Park Campus, Cheltenham GL50 2RH

Sharon Turnbull is Director of the Centre for Applied Leadership Research. Having spent 15 years in managerial positions with a variety of companies and consultancies, Sharon changed direction and became an academic before joining The Leadership Trust in 2003 where she could combine both worlds to connect theory to practice. As Director of the Centre for Applied Leadership Research Sharon works with clients and the business development team to ensure that the design and outcomes of the leadership development interventions are maximising organisational impact as well as personal learning. She also writes and presents new ideas in the field of leadership at a number of conferences, as well as being Cycle Director for the International Masters Programme in Practising Management and taking a lead on the MA Leading Change in conjunction with the University of Gloucestershire.
