

Could you be a University of Gloucestershire Music Scholar?

We are looking for a new cohort of Music Scholars to play a key part in our development of both our choir and orchestra

If you are a full or part time student within the University and can play an orchestral instrument or are a confident vocalist, having reached a Grade 5 or equivalent standard, then you could be offered a Music Scholarship.

Benefits:

- Annually receive £150 of vouchers to be spent in a local music store
- Free 30 minutes tuition on a weekly basis throughout term time from the University's Director of Music to enhance your skills
- Free membership of the University Choir and/or Orchestra (saving you up to £60 per year)
- Regular opportunities to represent the University at ceremonial/corporate events and to perform in a range of venues locally and nationally
- Opportunities to take on discounted further music courses/assessments
- Adds to your CV and employability

Interested?

To find out more about the scheme or the application process to become a Music Scholar please contact Ian Higginson (Director of Music): ihigginson@glos.ac.uk or 07963 659579